NHS Elevates Student Leadership

The National Honor Society (NHS) is far more than an honor roll—it’s about challenging students to commit to the pillars of scholarship, service, leadership, and character through active involvement in school activities and community service. As a chapter adviser, you understand what it takes to be inducted and how these exemplary role models positively affect the entire school community.

NHS members have a level of dedication to student achievement and community engagement that should be celebrated from the moment they join the chapter until the day they graduate. In the pages that follow, you’ll find countless ideas for making the NHS experience a memorable one for students and their families.
